

ANDREW BELLE

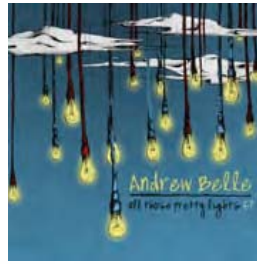

Since I was a child, I've always been around music; taught to appreciate the art form but only at a reasonable distance. My parents never let me listen to the radio or any kind of secular music until I was well into High-school. Before that, in Junior high, I recall making mix tapes from local radio stations during the day, and then lying in bed at night listening to all the pop hits of that time through a small, plastic walkman that I had received a few Christmases earlier. Third Eye Blind, the Counting Crows, the Verve Pipe...these were the artists that first welcomed me into the world of meaningful pop-music. The first album that I ever bought for myself was the Counting Crow's 'August and Everything After' when I was a Sophomore in High-school. It had already been out for several years at that point, but I can still remember sneaking it up to my room and listening to it very softly out of the dusty sony boombox in my bedroom; pouring over every melody and marveling over the lyrical genius in Adam Duritz; thinking, 'maybe I can do this someday?'. Not that I think of myself now as important to music as Adam Duritz or the Counting Crows have been, nor do I even dare to compare myself to such talent, but thinking back on my earliest experiences with music, there is no doubt that those quiet moments spent alone in my bedroom shaped my desires and passions and gave me the hope to make my small mark on this world, one song at a time.

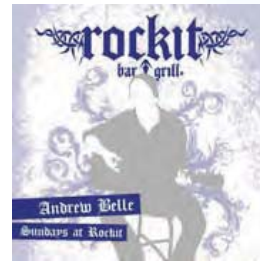

RECENT ACHIEVEMENTS

- * Winner of MTV's Best Breakout Artist 2009 - Chicago
- * Member of the Fall 2009 "Ten Out Of Tenn" national tour
- * I'll Be Your Breeze featured on CW's "90210" in November 2008
- * In Your Sleep featured on MTV's "Real World Cancun", July 2009
- * Played a 2009 SXSW showcase at RedGorilla Festival
- * Dozens of performances in and around Chicago, including nationally renowned venues Schubas, Elbo Room, and Rokit Bar
- * Has shared the stage with numerous major artists, including Ben Folds, Brian VanderArk (The Verve Pipe), and Barcelona
- * I'll Be Your Breeze achieved heavy rotation on over 20 college and non-commercial across the US
- * I'll Be Your Breeze in rotation on Nic Harcourt's taste-maker radio show "Morning Becomes Eclectic" on KCRW

DISCOGRAPHY

All Those Pretty Lights EP
September 2008

Sundays At Rockit Live Acoustic EP
September 2009

The Ladder Debut LP
January 2010

PRESS

EVERYONE'S TALKING ABOUT ANDREW BELLE

Just 24 years of age, it takes but one spin of Andrew Belle's "All Those Pretty Lights EP" to realize that the kid's got a bright future ahead of him.

-- The Daily News, McKeesport, PA

Something about Andrew Belle's Chris Martin-esque voice, thought provoking lyrics, and beautiful pop ballads that left me wanting more.

-- Fend Magazine

Andrew Belle is great new talent hitting the stage and his beautiful lyrics and melodies have a strong impact on anyone who hears them. More than just a pretty face this singer hopes to make the world a better place through his music, and all we can say is that he is well on his way.

-- FanSiter

When I bounce around an artist gets 45 seconds, maybe a minute and half, and "Static Waves" made the most of its chance... congratulations Mr. Belle, you're going to the lightning round.

-- The Soundtrack to Life

It feels light and free, unconstrained by any need to be overly hip or trendy... this is a very promising start for Andrew Belle.

-- Carry You Away

The first time I listened to singer/songwriter Andrew Belle I knew immediately that this guy was something special. His lyrics, his voice, and his hooks all work together to form something truly enjoyable and noticeably unique.

-- Saving The Set List

Only 24, Belle has a long, bright future ahead of him.

-- Blog Critics

CONTACT

WWW.ANDREWBELLE.COM

MANAGEMENT:

Seth Cassel, 1L Music
[305]332-5000
seth@1l-music.com

COLLEGE BOOKING:

Wally's World of Entertainment
[800]476-0442
info@houseofwally.com