

EDENS EDGE

Edens Edge is a trio originally from Central Arkansas.

Hannah Blaylock fronts the group with her pure, powerful, and unique voice that captivates audiences night after night. Cherrill Green brings her impressive mandolin skills and smooth blend of harmony vocals to the band. Dean Berner rounds out Edens Edge with his warm vocal presence and accomplished musicianship on guitar and dobro. Their influences span a wide range of music, including Bonnie Raitt, The Beatles, The Dixie Chicks, James Taylor, and Alison Krauss.

Edens Edge formed in 2003, after the three young musicians grew up just down the road from each other in their home state. They followed their lifelong dream and moved together to Music City in 2007.

Their original, hook-laden songwriting reaches beyond genres to pull in fans of all varieties. Whether it's a ballad, a soulful groove, or a rocker, their songs all maintain a relatable and positive message that leaves the listener feeling great. Within their energetic and engaging sets are occasional familiar cover favorites that they make their own. With their flawless three-part harmony and locked rhythm, coupled with a deep connection to their acoustic roots, Edens Edge has a fresh sound that will leave the audience wanting more.
